Waste Not. Want Not.

Waste is not your business. It doesn't move your business ahead. It's simply a related by-product. And more than likely it's the last "duty" you want sapping your energy, cutting into your time and profits, and testing your up-to-speed familiarity with the ever evolving and rigorous regulations governing waste management. The inherent paperwork by itself can be a minefield, exposing you to a series of prohibitive penalties and fines. You'd rather not go there. CWW can handle it all.

Remove your Waste. Save your Money.

CWW specializes in handling, managing, and cleaning contaminated water. With our advanced state-of-the-art fleet of high powered and rugged vacuum equipment, we can haul bulk loads of contaminated liquids, sludge, and slurries safely, painlessly, and expeditiously. Confined space entry and more – a non-issue. While CWW's crews are certified in confined space entry, CWW brings to bear equipment that can go it alone. Putting it all together, the efficiencies CWW brings to the table will save you time, aggravation, and money.

The Treat's on Us

Not only can CWW treat contaminated liquid industrial waste and non-hazardous solids at our licensed facility in the Nation's Capital, by combining our hydro-excitation service with our Mobile Certificate of Approval we can also treat waste right where you are, on site. When it comes to large scale clean-ups, treating waste on site significantly reduces transportation costs, and maximizes productivity and cost savings.
